In the quicksand of life . . .

In honor of . . .

We the Students of Baker Senior High dedicate this 1974 yearbook to Herman Stieger.

Who is Herman Stieger? Herman Stieger is the fun-loving face you see at all the football practices, basketball games and track meets.

Mr. Stieger was graduated from BHS in 1917. From school, he made his career with Western Electric Co. This job dealt with communications, mostly putting up telephone offices along the Pacific Coast and down into Nevada. Mr. Stieger retired in 1962 and returned to Baker in 1965. In his life, this athletic enthusiast, has coached a little League baseball team, helped with the Walla Walla Junior High football team and also with the wrestling squad.

Along with being a sports fan, Mr. Stieger enjoys the outdoors. He and his wife take pleasure in going to the mountains and getting acquainted with nature and all it has to offer. The Stieger's were both involved with show dogs when they lived in Walla Walla, Wash. Mr. Stieger was the President of the Walla Walla Kennel Club for five years. The Stieger's have two poodles and they attend many of the various dog shows around the area. Mrs. Stieger teaches a 4-H dog class in her spare time.

At the close of the football season, the Lettermen's Club made Mr. Stieger an honorary member and presented to him a lettermen's jacket. This was given to him for his unique interest in the students and their performances in sports. Mr. Stieger plans on continuing to lend a helping hand whenever possible at all the sports events scheduled in the future.

Baker's Centennial

We the students of Baker High School dedicate this page of the 1974 yearbook to the Baker City Centennial. July 28 starts the celebration of Baker city's 100th birthday.

Special contests, selling booths, state level politicians to come speak, antique pioneer craft show, ice cream socials and a historical pageant are just some of the things being planned to help the special occasion along.

Store fronts along Main Street will be built to represent the "old pioneer days" along with authentic pioneer dress worn by the town merchants. Some of the booths will include demonstrations on quilting, butter churning, saddle and boot making and other lost pioneer crafts. Special events planned are a rubber raft race, puppet show and music in the park.

Student Council

The 1974 members of Student Council were led, for the first time by a liberated president, Cyndy Rasmussen. Other officers were: Dave Klugh, vice-president; Lynn Williams, secretary; and Kara Kennison, treasurer.

During the year student council organized many events, some of which included members of the student body. A few events tried this year were a "We Love You" faculty breakfast, wrapping Toys for Tots at Christmas time along with the canned food drive for the needy.

A "Come To The Hop" dance, based on the events of the 50's was presented in January. A suggestion box was set up in the office at the first of February for the students to use to get their ideas into the council.

The council organized the Talent Assembly for BSHS in which students were involved. Other activities for the remainder of the year included the election of new members into the council. The 1974-75 Student Council's term officially begins May 1.

Cyndy contemplates her role as A.S.B. President.

Music

Mr. Kent Smith teacher of Music Literature, takes a group of students on a tour of Europe every year. Mr. Smith is trying to schedule more concerts so that his choirs will have more performing experience.

Mr. Carol Miller, band teacher, tries to play as many instruments as possible in order to help his students. He also has organized a stage band, pep band and football band. In order to purchase new uniforms for his band members, he also organized a fund raising campaign.

Ms. Kathy Walden teaches Orchestra one period a day at BHS, then she reports to the junior high where she also instructs orchestra classes. This is her second year at Baker.

A Vocational Industrial Arts class is made up of several courses. These include Agriculture I, II, & III; Shop Skills I; Drafting I; and Architectural Drafting. These arts also include Woodworking I; Advanced Woodworking II; Wood Trades III; Electricity/Electronics; Art I & II; and Commercial Art.

Instructors for these courses are: Mel Sorenson for Woodworking I, II, & III; Lew Robbins for Shop Skills and Ag. I, II, & III; George Rainey for Electricity/Electronics and General and Architectural Drafting; and Eldon Moore for general, advanced and Commercial Arts.

Mathematics

Lynn Mitchell came to teach at Baker Senior High two years ago. Although this is his first teaching job, he is already involved in improving our math department. He presently is working on a project to add vocational math to the basic math course and the Algebra III courses. Mr. Mitchell is also sophomore advisor and basketball coach.

Nancy Garrett has taught various courses besides her algebra classes. She has taught physical education at both Junior and Senior Highs and has also been a member of the guidance department. Today, her schedule consists of teaching math, six classes a day.

Joe Miller came to Baker High School to teach in 1966. In the years that followed, Mr. Miller taught every math class offered at the high school at one time or another. He is currently teaching Math IV (Geometry), Math V (Trig.), and Math IV (Calculus).

Miss Leslie Durgan has accomplished many things during her 4 years teaching at BHS. Among these, she has teaching a boys' home-ec class, starting the nursery program, and having her students invite guests during the food unit.

Mrs. Carol Rodman, who taught 2 years in Miami, Florida, is presently teaching at BHS. Mrs. Rodman hopes to add golf and archery to her P.E. curriculum.

Mr. Wayne Looney who has taught P.E. and been assistant coach for 6 years, has just been bestowed with the title of head coach. Mr. Looney is looking forward to the upcoming year.

This year's foreign language instructor is Zo Ann Purnell. She teaches Spanish I-II and also German I-II to sophomore, junior, and senior students.

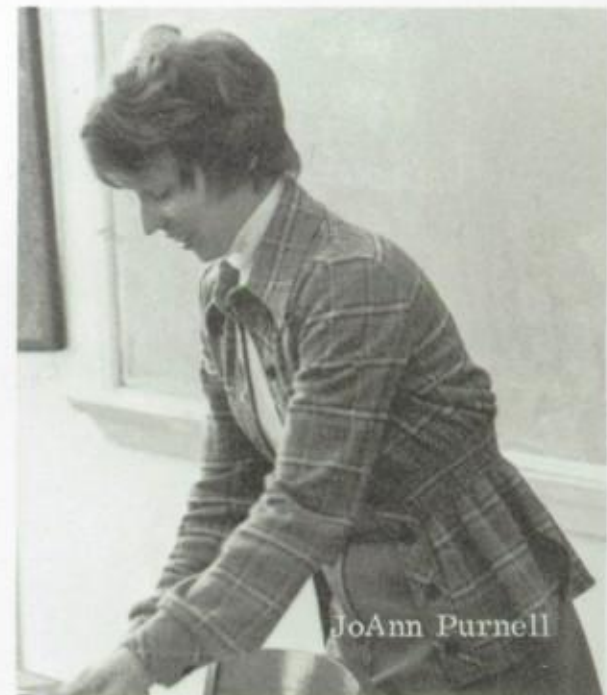

Paul Wallace is this year's Special Education teacher. He is also very active in the game of tennis.

Mrs. Sally Read, typing teacher has taught at Baker Senior High School for the past three years. Her schedule consists of typing the full day.

Mrs. Eva Ostwald has taught at Baker High for seventeen years. She teaches shorthand I, bookkeeping, and general business. This year data processing is being taught in bookkeeping.

Mr. Tom Langston teaches office practice and business machines, shorthand II, general business, business English, and business law to Juniors and Seniors. This is his thirteenth year at Baker Senior High.

Eva Ostwald

Social Studies

This year, the usual class of Senior Modern Problems has been changed to Democratic Problems, but still consists of mainly the same projects. Teachers for Democratic Problems are: Gary Hammond and Richard Taie, who also instructs U. S. History along with Dale Austin. John Heriza teaches World Civ. to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors.

Some activities in the Democratic Problems classes consisted of studying the Constitution in full, Civil Defense, and various civilizations at the beginning of the year.

In World Civ., the students study a variety of countries and construct term papers around them. U. S. History consists of studying the history of the United States.

Mindi Phillips cheers on a victory.

This year's Rally Squad has had many ups and downs. Song Queen Mindi Phillips pulled the muscles in her leg but managed to appear with the other cheerleaders to support our Baker Bulldogs.

The girls' dedication to their team was shown in the efforts they made to attend all the out of town games. But in spite of these efforts, a few of the games were unattended. The Pep Assemblies made up for the loss of cheering by showing that we were all 100% behind them.

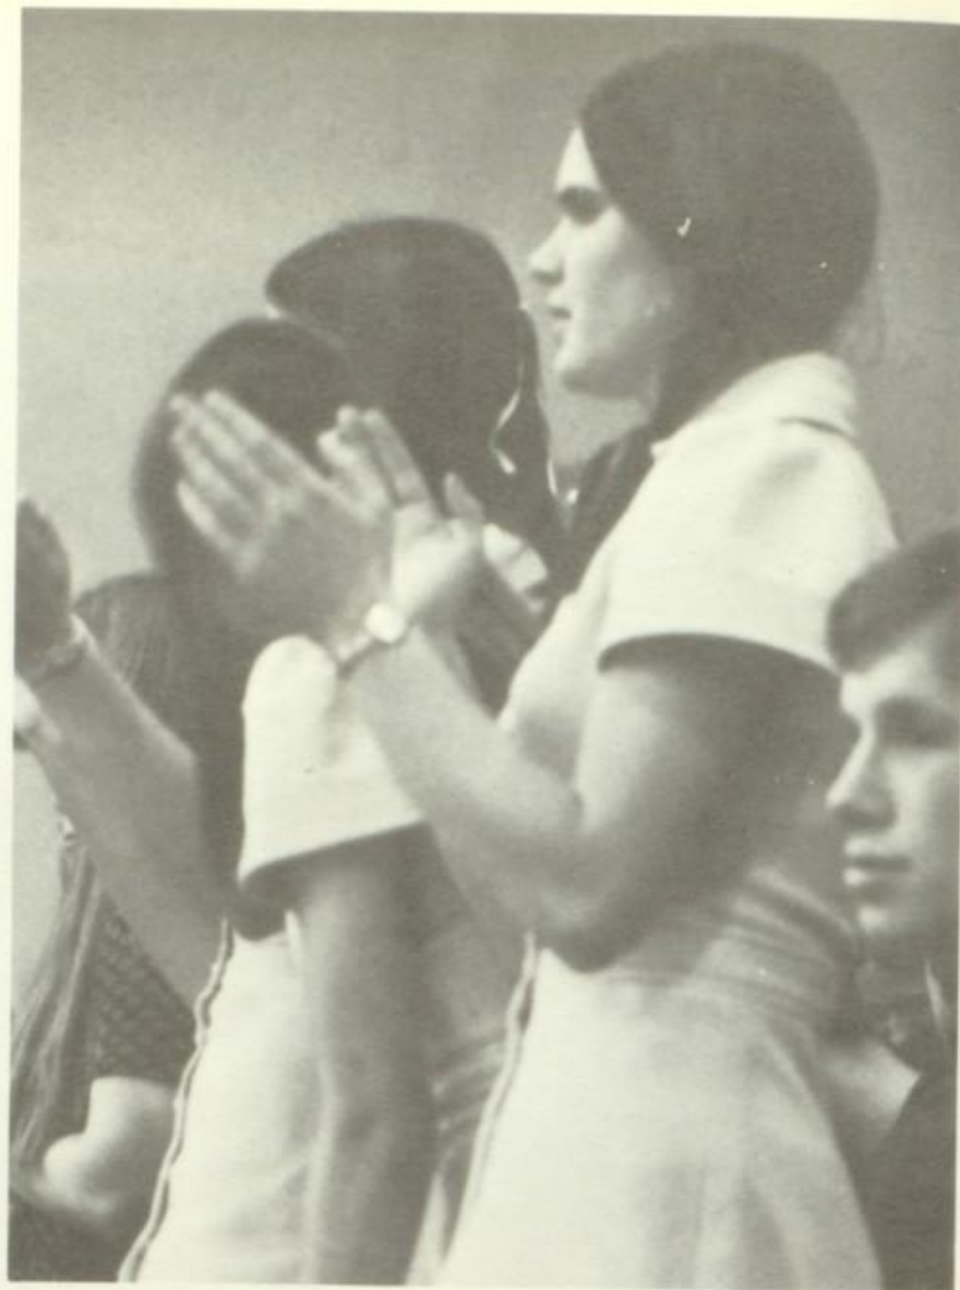

ICF in Eugene, Oregon was the place where the girls learned many new skills. These skills have helped in forming a reliable, hardworking Rally Squad.

Baker Bulldogs and Rally Squad lead the fans in the school's Alma Mater.

The BHS baseball team brought home a 2-8 record in Conference and a 4-12 record in all games for their first year in action.

Ron Nelson, coach, feels, "This season was a learning season. We were just getting baseball in the high school again. We had a good turn out for the team and everyone tried hard."

"Next year will be another year for learning. We are losing six starters. We hope to have a good turn out next year. We also hope to get a JV team started," concluded the coach.

John Walker, outfielder.

Mitch Hopkins forces his runner out.

Special Ed. competes

Girls tally 1-1

The twelve members of the team are: Julie Burchtorf, Linda Glover, Katie Klugh, Nancy Wilson, Kerri Hindman, Brenda Edwards, Janeece Dobbel, Cheri Maxwell, Marianne Spence, Leslee Bennett, Eileen Galt, Josie Bates.

The early morning practice held by the Girl's Basketball team this year started at 7:00 a.m. This not only helped the players get bright eyed and bushy tailed but the extra practice put them in tip-top shape when they played North Powder. Although they had a record of 1-1 with them, they still had an excellent year.

Godard-Wallace Tennis Classic

The first annual Godard-Wallace tennis classic began on a blustery cold day in the month of April. The teams consisted of mixed sets. In other words, one male and one female.

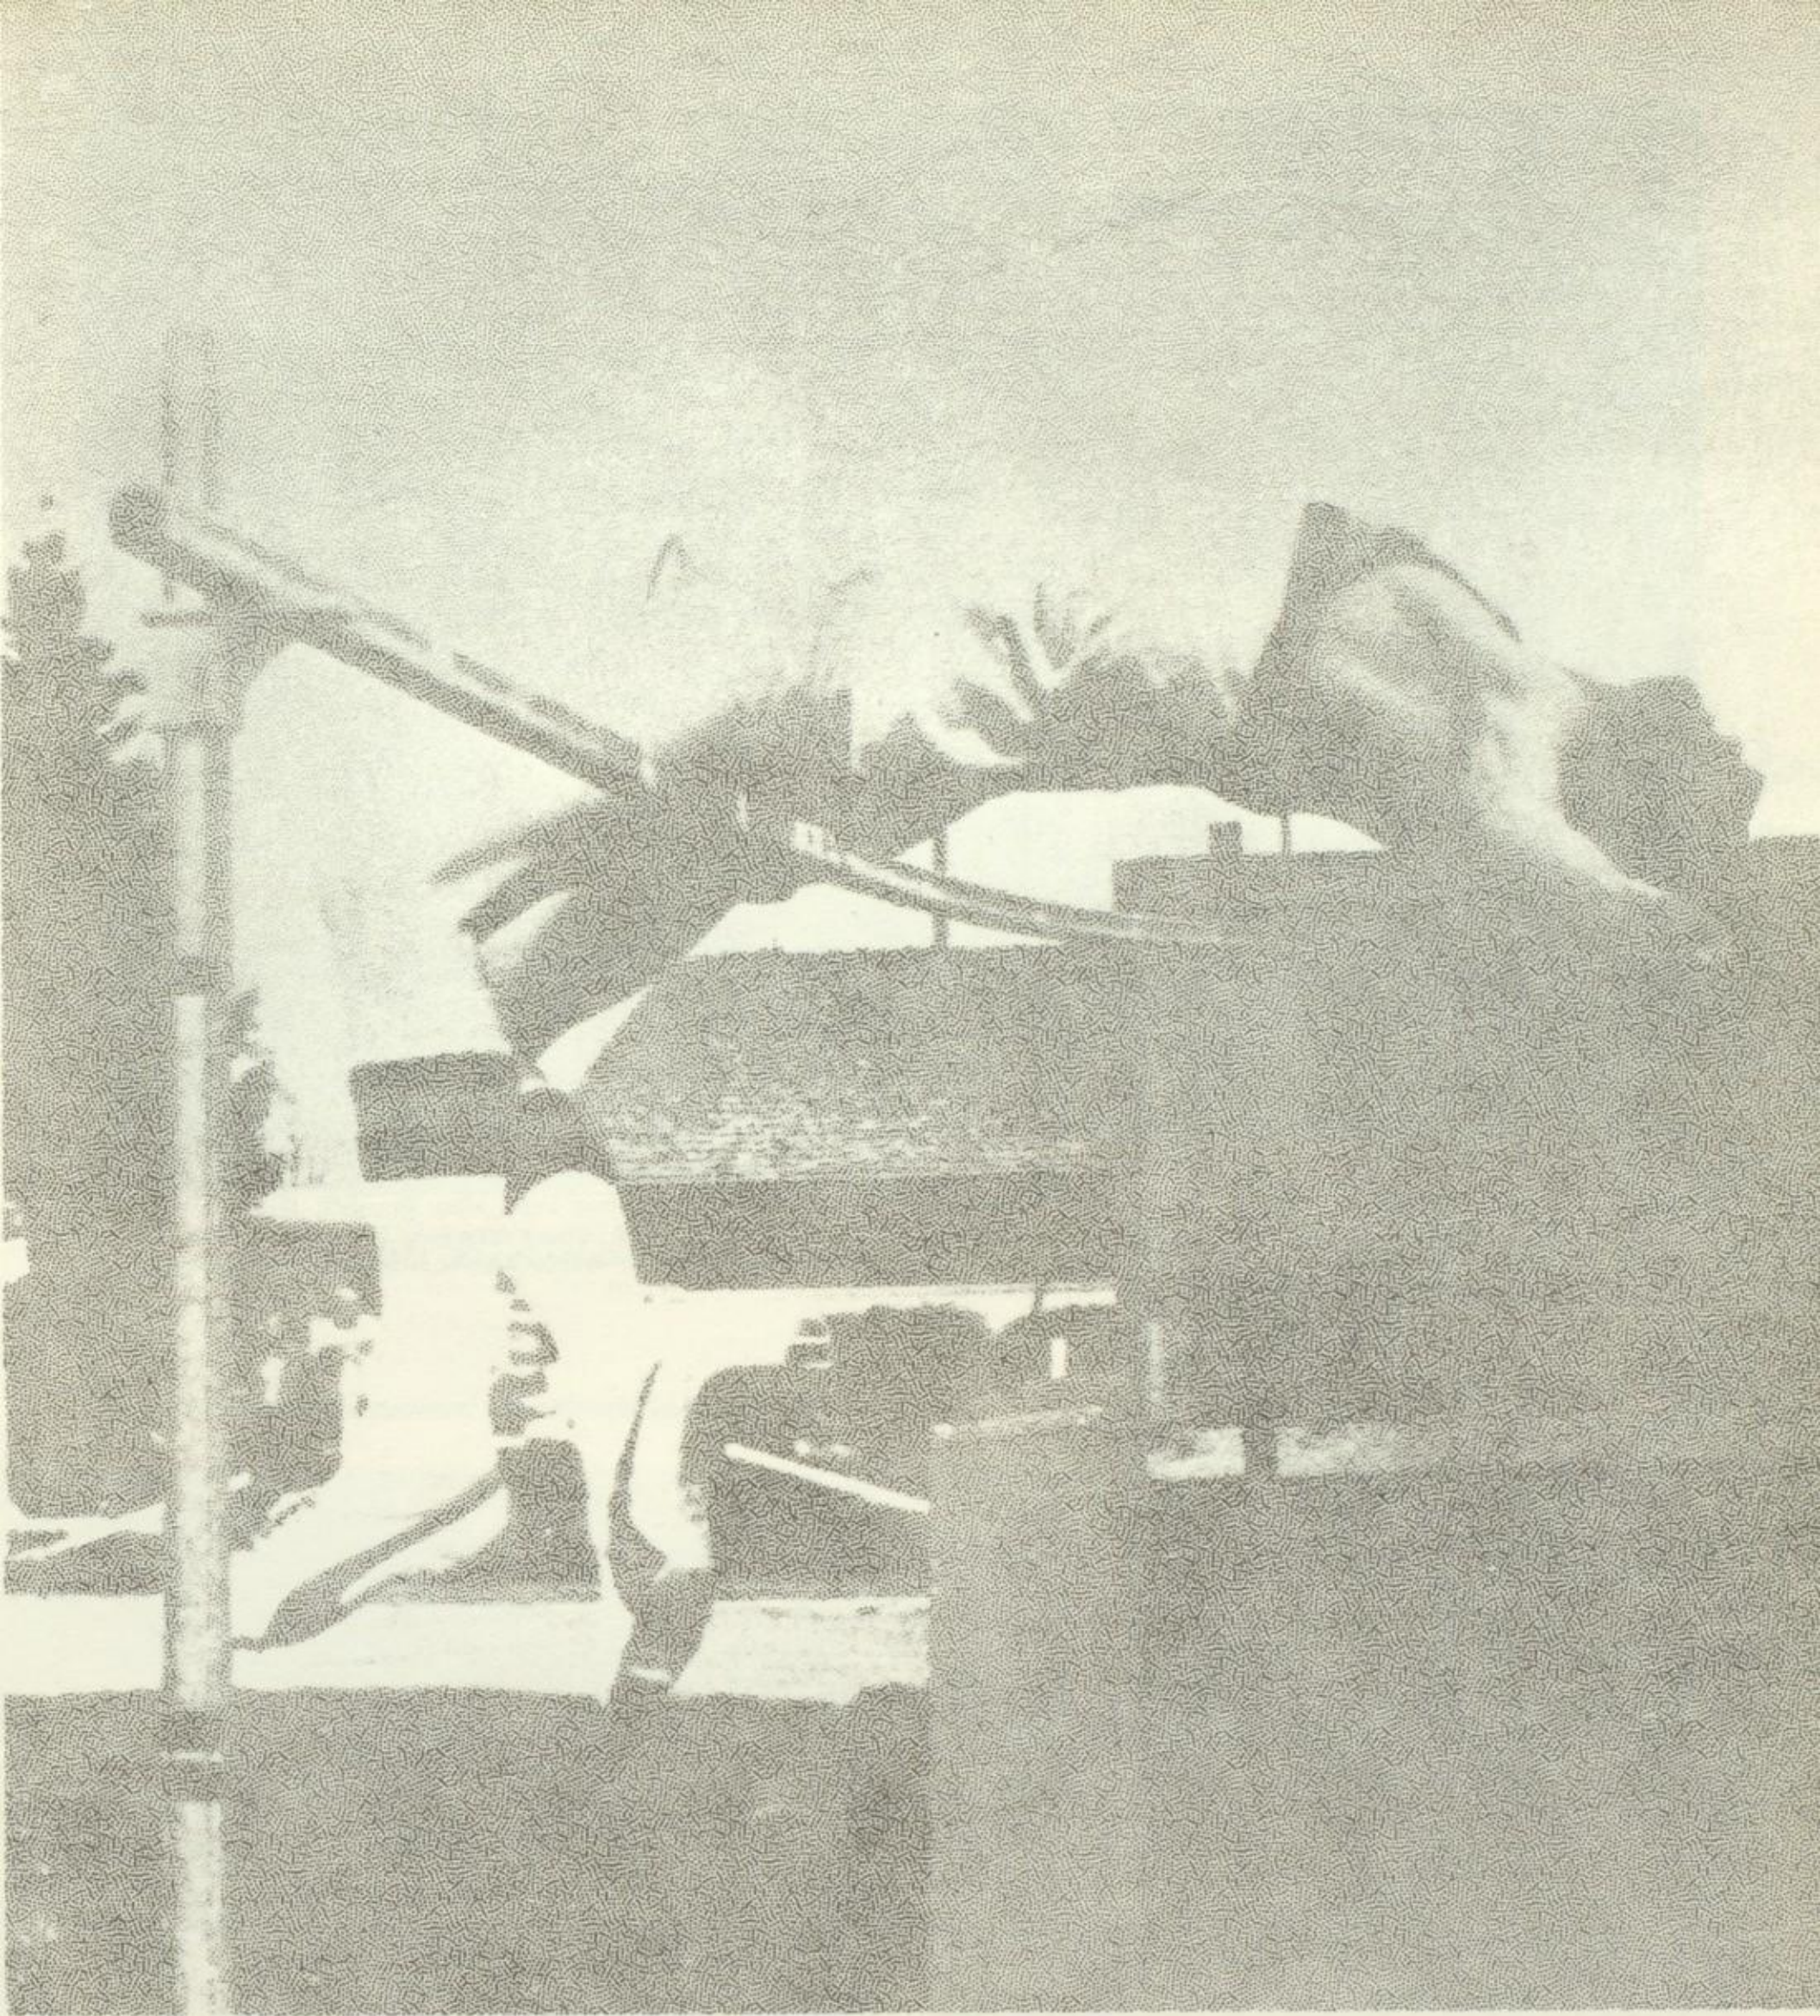

Tennis is becoming a popular past-time among the students of Baker High. Many came out for the tournament and although there always has to be a winner and a loser, everyone enjoyed themselves.

Noon intermural were also conducted by coach Wayne Looney. Winners were announced as Wayne Looney and Tim Rode.

Chuck Lissman

Chuck Lissman, Mr. Track for 1974, competes strongly in three main events. They are long, triple, and high jump. Chuck said that he scored most of his points in the long jump but when they had the triple jump he won it three out of four times. Chuck has been out for track two years and says "it's surprising how much fun it is and it's all individual, if you work hard it shows up in the meet." He practices about three to three and one half hours a night six days a week. Chuck wishes the track season would be longer so he could have more time to develop. He only wanted one meet a week so he could practice more.

Mr. Track

The running, jumping, tracksters

Track girls are going places and doing things many of us would not attempt. They have been to many meets and have really worked hard to prepare for them. Some of the girls in Track who are pictured below are: Marilee Tiedemann, Shannon Johnson, Donna Curry, Jo Ann Eddy, Janece Dobbel, Shelley Schreeck, Pat Hinton, Kerri Hindman, Leslee Bennett, Leslie Duffy, Cheryl McKinnis, Donna Colton, Carol Stevens, Lynn Lee, Valerie Nordquist, Nada Hibbard, Pat Stephens, Carla Leemaster, Denice Parker, Filo D'Addona, Kathy Sunday, and Linda Glover.

Ms. Track

From start to finish Donna Curry is our choice for Ms. Track. Her achievements have been great and she has terrific possibilities.

Donna started participating in track in the ninth grade. After participating in three meets and scoring well, she decided to pursue this new found talent. She says, "It's really good experience because you get to know people from this school better." She adds, "It makes the year go faster." Donna plans to go to Blue Mountain Community College and hopes they have an athletic program.

It is not enough to know,
we must also apply;
It is not enough to will,
we must also do

Student aides

Boys P. E. Aides

Educable

Music Literature

Approximately 60 students in Baker Senior High act as Student Aides. The aides help out in the office, the library, and classes. Types of classes range from Typing to Shop and the aides learn through experience when they are helping others. Being an aide also helps a student decide if they want to carry on into a teaching career. Student aides also help the teachers by eliminating smaller tasks and giving the teachers more time for larger problems. Students and teachers alike agree that this is a valuable and effective program.

Talent Assembly shows creative skills

Tony Sackos and Tim Rode acted as emcee's for the program. They kept the audience amused with the zany skits that they had worked up.

The Mixed Ensemble have a few practices before their performance.

A good display of talent is captured at the BHS Talent Assembly, February 13. Trophies went as follows: 3rd place, Karen Whitt and Diane Campbell, singing and playing the guitar, 2nd place, Kent Bailey on the piano, and 1st place went to Jayn Ferguson. She played and sang two different selections on her guitar. Other participants included, Eileen Galt with a floor exercise routine, Gene Hunt, Rick Scrivner, Tony Hunt, and Jeff Kleck rounded off the program with a barber-shop quartet act and also an imitation of Gary and the Hammonds.

Jeff Kleck and Rick Scrivner do a good job with a sax and on the chains.

Director Richard L. Domey

Director, Richard Domey, takes a few minutes to critique a few scenes in the play.

A case of mistaken identity enthralled the audience at the BHS fall play "Charley's Aunt." The famous play set in the 1890's tells the love story of Kitty Verdun and May Spettigue. Their guardian, Stephen Spettigue, is an old selfish man who each year hurries the girls off to some out of the way place where there is no chance for the girls to meet anyone of their own age.

Charles Wykeham and James Chesney, who are very much in love with the girls, have invited them for an afternoon of tea and crumpets. The plot thickens when Charley's Aunt, Donna Lucia D' Alvadorez, is delayed and cannot come to stay with her beloved nephew. The fellows, lacking a chaperone, make haste to find a replacement. By way of chance, Lord Fancourt Babberley, a neighbor, who lives down the hall has a part in a small theatrical play where he portrays an old lady. Babbs stops to tell his friends of his success in the play and tries his costume on for Jack and Charley. Caught in the old lady's costume when the girls come, he is mistaken for Charley's Aunt. Thus the fun begins.

Holly Carter looks disgusted, as Ron Dickison gets carried away puffing about himself.

Charley's Aunt

My, Charlie has an interesting old lady for an aunt, doesn't he?

Babbs gets in a few extra puffs while the girls are out getting some fresh air.

Thespians play the part

This crazy bunch hanging in the tree, are the 1973-74 Thespian club officers. From r-l: Ron Dickison, president; Lynn Edmondson, vice-president; and Patti Gushman, secretary-treasurer. Patti played it smart and kept both feet on the ground, while Lynn and Ron struggled getting back down out of the tree.

Richard Domey first got his interest in Drama when he was a junior in high school. There, he participated in three plays. During the first three years in college, he tried out and won roles in every production. His dramatic interest led him to taking every class in speech and drama offered at EOSC. From there he went on to teaching at BHS.

Mr. D. took over the dramatic productions during his second year teaching. His success at BHS include the very serious "J.B.", the delightful comedy "Harvey" and "The Miracle Worker." He considers his best set to be in the "Star Spangled Girl" and "Charley's Aunt." His all time favorite was the memorable "Dracula" where 750 kids screamed in unison.

A well done performance, celebrated by a fantastic cast party afterwards, is what the Thespian Club at BHS likes to accomplish.

This year the troupe showed their dramatic ability in "Charley's Aunt" by Brandon Thomas and "The Emperor's New Clothes" by Charlotte Chorpenning. According to Director, Richard Domey, "The Thespians have never had as much experience with breaking down sets and setting them up again and then putting on a performance." "The Emperor's New Clothes" gave student actors an opportunity to experience first hand the work and subsequent rewards accomplished by a traveling theatre troupe.

The 10 points required to be pledged as a Thespian, comes from working with the plays. Either having a part or helping back stage on the sets. Each year, usually in May, the club has an initiation banquet for all the students that have worked and have gained their 10 points. They are then pledged as Thespians and the next year's officers are elected.

In April, the club was invited to EOSC to participate in a dramatic festival.

This summer, the club will have the chance to work in small plays at the Crossroads Art Center. There will also be an acting festival and workshop around July.

travels to different schools

"The Emperor's New Clothes," a children's play, suitable for Little Theaters, and grade schools, was presented in the Spring at BHS. The play was written by Charlotte Chorpensing. The play tells the story of the Emperor of China, Louis White, who cares for nothing but clothes. The Minister of the Robes, Ron Dickison, plays on this weakness to rob the Royal Weavers, played by Merna Putman, Annette Pearson, and DaVon Couzens, persecute the Empress, Lori Russell. Two rollicking rogues, Cathi Quigley and Randy Miller, convince the Emperor that they can weave a stuff which cannot be seen by anyone unfit for the position he holds.

Everyone is afraid to confess that he cannot see the new clothes the Emperor orders. The comedy situations which result enable the rogues to save the Empress and the weavers and expose the villainy of the minister. The Emperor proudly walks in procession, clad in nothing but a straight little shirt to show his people the glory of his new clothes.

The production was not only presented at BHS for two nights, but was also taken to Haines, Churchill, and Sumpter grade schools. This gave the cast an opportunity to see what it's like to put up the set, put on the performance, and then tear down the set and move it to another location.

The roles of The Gong Girls, played by Jody Helgerson, Marilee Tiedemann, Kathy Sunday, Laurie Stabb, Lynn Edmondson, and Jenny Himmelsbach, was included in the play to utilize more people and give these girls a chance to be on stage. Originally, the cast called for only one girl to play the part.

Orchestra goes informal

Hors d' oeuvres, punch, and coffee were the cuisine at a standing room only audience at the concert given by the Baker High orchestra and conducted by Ms. Kathy Walden, on November 29.

The concert was presented in an Italian style restaurant. The entree, or main course, was a selection of Antonio Vivaldi and also a violin solo by Alice Trindle.

The evening featured solos by Kent Bailey, Kevin Griffith, Kris Sackos, and Alice Trindle. A string quartet which consisted of Mr. Carol Miller - band conductor, Alice Trindle, Francis Higgins, Ms. Walden, and Kris Sackos, played.

Barb, Kris and Shan smile as they ride by in their float during the Christmas parade.

Ensemble is a group of singers willing to give their own time to perform for groups of people who wish to hear them. The group does not receive payment for the entertaining they do.

This year Ensemble tried two different projects for earning money to pay for their expenses. They gathered pop bottles from the people of Baker County and sold packages of light bulbs.

The performers sing popular songs for schools, assemblies, clubs, and around town.

Ensemble was in the Christmas parade, sang at the Talent Assembly and the Spring Vocal Concert to name a few of their engagements.

LETTER M E N

Officers of this year's Lettermen's Club are: Vern Jensen, president; Tim Rode, vice-president; Ben Rosales, Sergeant-at-arms; and Kelly Johnson, secretary. Lettermen's Club this year consists of approximately 40 members. The members can get into this club only by earning a letter in football, baseball, basketball or track. These boys are trying to keep the tradition of the purple and gold and are usually looked upon as the leaders of the school. The Lettermen's advisor is Mr. Hammond.

The BHS Rifle Club started off with a bang this year! The troupe, consisting of 26 members, they placed second in Blue Mountain League and won their division in the Boise and Ontario matches.

Among the top shooters this year were Grant Young and Cheri Maxwell. Grant is the state record holder and the 1974 Oregon State High School Champion. He also succeeded in being one of the first students to place in international try-outs in Rogers, Arkansas.

The officers of the club were Grant Young, president; Diana Daniels, vice-president; and Cheri Maxwell, secretary-treasurer.

Rifle Club

Radio Club

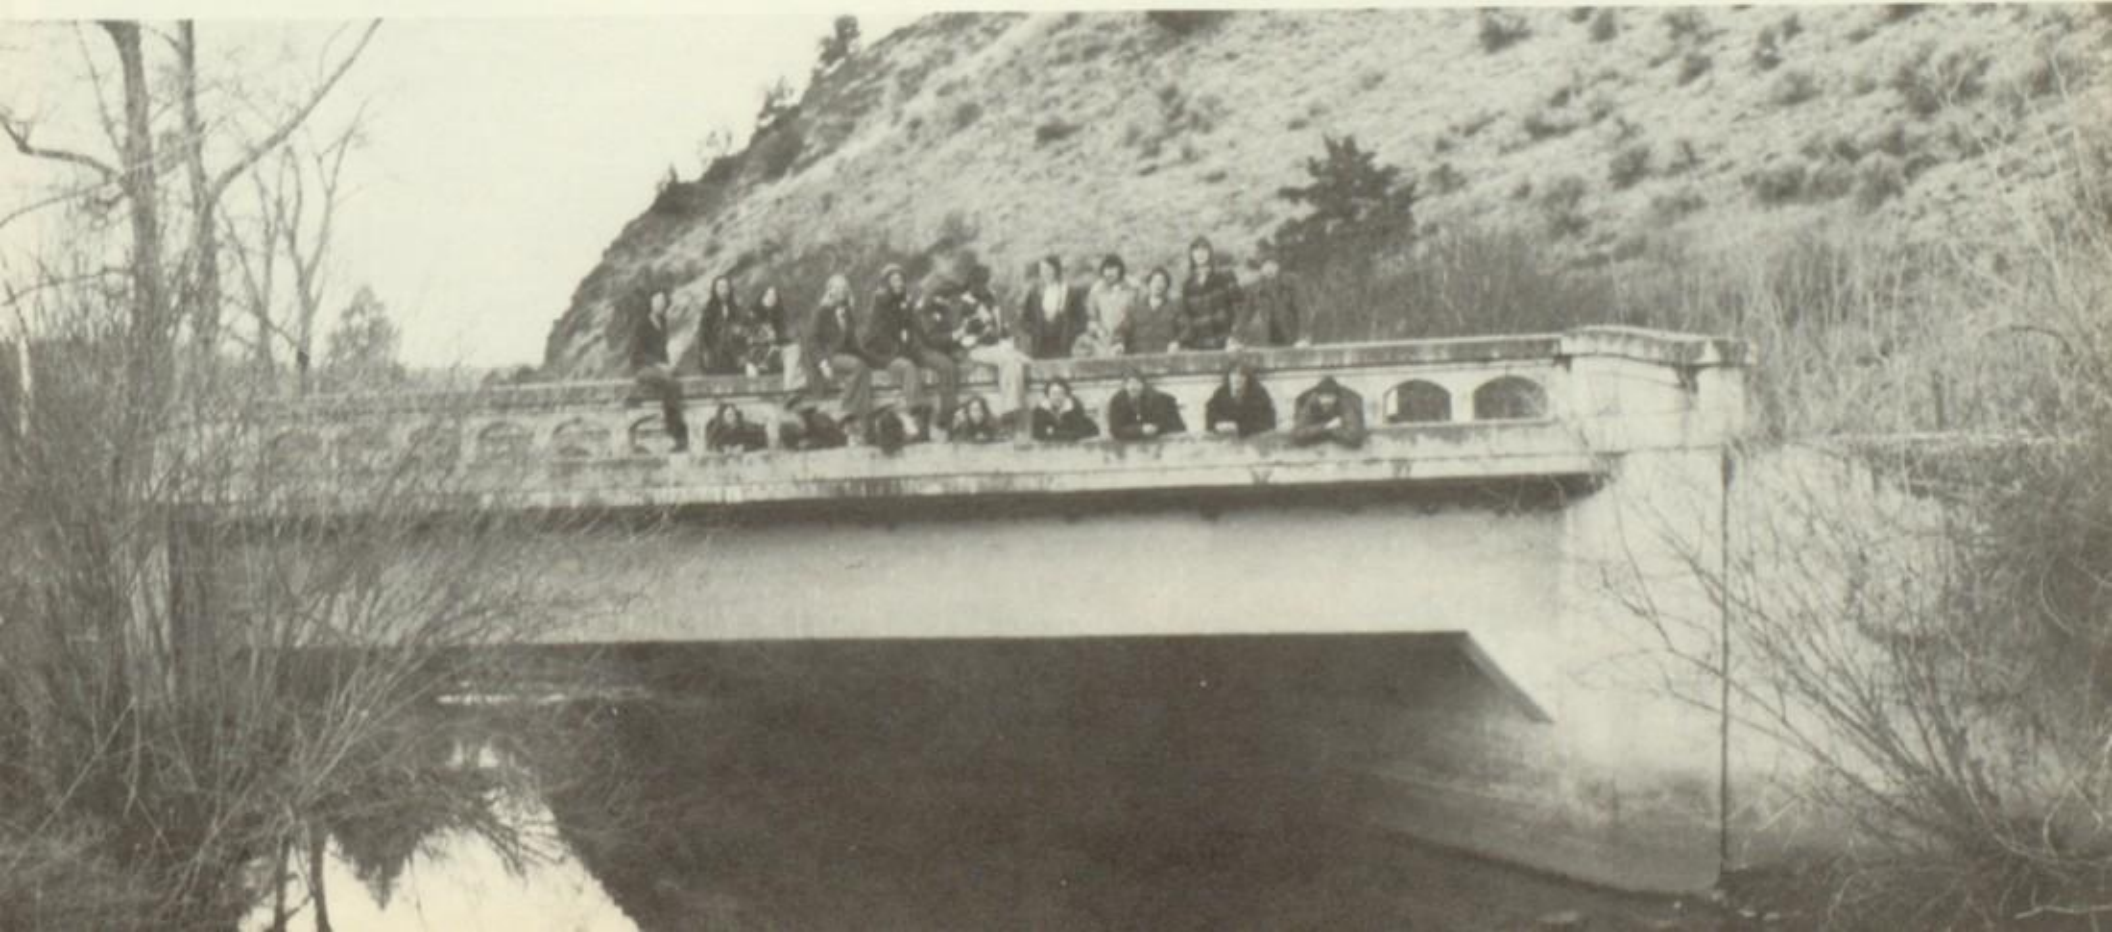

Even with only four members, the Radio Club has been quite active this year. Advisor, Mr. George Rainey says, "With more membership, the club could accomplish more things." Citizen Band operating and amateur ham radios are among the things studied. In May, the club has their yearly banquet at the Steakhouse in Haines. Club members include: Doug Johnson, Ken Howard, Dick Berdahl, and Bill Simmons.

This year's Hi-Y club held three offices at Oregon Youth Legislature in Salem. Jess Himmelsbach went down as the President of the Senate. Kara Kennison and Chris Bohn chaired the Driver's Regulation and Welfare committees, respectively. There were also many bills that were passed at the sessions.

Other activities of the club include the annual Hi-Y Bulldog Breakfast, the teeter-totter contest, and candy sales. The officers are Chris Bohn, President; Jody Helgersen, Vice-President; Cris Kostol, Secretary-Treasurer; Polly Gugler, Chaplain; and Marilee Tiedemann, Cookie Monster. Mr. Dale Austin and Ms. Nancy Garrett are the advisors.

American Field

This year the AFS (American Field Service) club was proud to sponsor Filo d'Addona. Filo, at the left is from Switzerland and is staying with the Bill Kuhl family. Also, at BHS this year, is Bente Mikkelsen, right. She is sponsored by the Rotary Club and stayed with the Grover Mann family and also the Glenn Bates family.

Among the activities the club participated in this year, were working in the candy counter the 2nd nine weeks to raise money, selling Christmas cards and sponsoring a dance, the end of AFS week, April 15, 21.

AFS week consists of having other exchange students come from other schools in the surrounding area. Usually, eight to ten students arrive the middle of the week and leave on Sunday. Activities during their stay, consist of a swimming party and picnic, a tour of the plywood mill and the Crossroads Art Center, a dance, a party at the Kuhl's home, a talent assembly performed for the student body, and a banquet for the visiting students and for the adult and student members of the club.

The club has numerous get-togethers during the year, including an orientation party, where the new exchange students share their countries and customs with us. The exchange students that went from BHS the previous year, are also there and they tell of their foreign experiences. This organization also gives a Christmas party. In January, Mrs. Eloise Dielman brought the troupe together for a slide show. She showed slides of places that she and her husband had either lived in or had been to.

Students going abroad for this summer are Lynn Williams and Shelley Schreeck, alternate. They will find out where they are going the first of June.

Log reviews old issues for new ideas

As the year goes on, the students keep up with campus news by reading the Log, which comes out once a month by the staff in room 22. With the help of first year Journalism, the staff is able to have more interesting and lively stories.

This year, the Log is turning out more eight page issues than in the past. This means more work for the six member staff, but one way or another, they always come through.

The 1974 staff members are: Editor-Michele Shean, and reporters-Lynn Williams, Cyndy Rasmussen, Holly Carter, Eileen Galt, and Tim Rode. Advisor is Ms. Janet Godard.

Agape takes on new face

The 1973-74 Agape (former Quilldriver) took on a different look this year as the name, format, and style was changed.

Cathy Allen, editor, commented on the big change, "The name, 'Agape', a Greek word meaning 'brotherhood', was thought of by Lynn Edmondson. A change of name was needed because last year's staff changed the cover but not the name. A cover and name that fit together was established by the new staff." The different style was decided on by the group by looking at different ideas and they saw that their choice wasn't any more expensive and it was easier to carry.

A lot of time was consumed in making this book of collected poetry. Cathy estimated she spent forty total hours on the book, thirty of those were during Spring vacation. Her job as editor included organizing all material and making sure typing, spelling, and language was correct. An editor also gets to do work that others don't get done.

The photography added to the new book was done by Cathy Allen and Cathy Quigley. A lot of the copy was from the reading and composition class.

After a hard year of collecting and critiquing copy, the group celebrated the publication of the book with a pizza party at the Grizzly Bear. Standing by as advisors of the Agape were Ms. Godard and Ms. Bayless.

Holly Shean is accepted by the members of FFA as one of the four girls to join FFA this year. Holly is also the only girl in Agriculture II.

Future Farmers of America

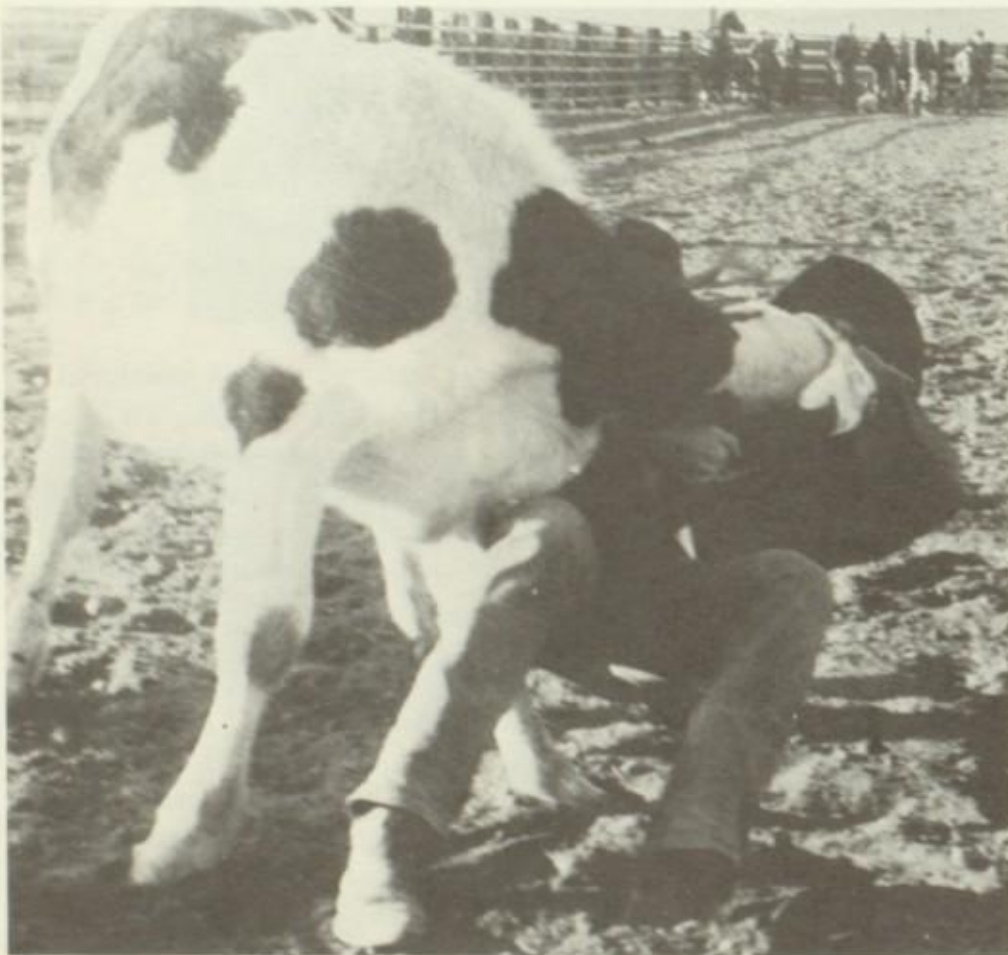

This year FFA president was David Klugh. To help lead his group were Mike Wright, vice-president; Dan Ward, secretary; Kelly Johnson, treasurer; Rodd Bunch, sentinel; and Karl Wirth, reporter.

For the first time female members were allowed to join FFA. Holly Shean won a co-op contest and will go to Kansas this summer to compete.

Rodd Bunch won first place in the annual speaking contest. The Sweetheart Ball in February found Barb Lissman as the 1974 Sweetheart. Barb helped David and Fred Warner run the Slave Sale on April 25. At the FFA banquet she was presented with a necklace.

Rodeo Club rides to victory

The Baker cowboys have given their rodeo club quite a reputation in the High School Rodeo Association of Oregon.

The Rodeo Club is defending their place of first team in the state this year. They received the team trophy at the state finals last year and sent some members to the national finals in Ogden, Utah.

Lots of practice goes into the making of a good rodeo club and leading the work this year is Jim Brown. During practice he can be heard giving pointers and advice to the others members. Also lending their help are Gordon Van Cleave, Rodeo Club advisor, and Howard Driggers, whose arena is used for practice.

Howard Maxwell, North Powder; Bob Davis and Howard Driggers, coach; compare notes after Bob's ride on a bull at the arena.
